

“Whatever you do, work at it with all your heart”

Colossians 3:23

En Ville

Year 6

Summer 1

Key Knowledge:

Know that:

The verb 'aller' is irregular and is conjugated differently to regular French verbs.

À gauche means left/to the left and à droite means to the right/right.

Tout droit means straight ahead.

'dans ma ville' means in my town

The boulangerie in France is a protected word (bread must be made from scratch on the premises to be called a boulangerie)

There is a difference between a 'boulangerie' and a 'pâtisserie' in France

When giving directions, we use the imperative form of the verb.
